The prevalent impression that Mexicans never work must be modified in view of the alleged fact that President Diaz has received an address from 4,000 workmen of the City of Mexico.

Some of the members of the present Congress boast of being "self-made" men. But they didn't do much of a job after all. If they had let the contract out to some one else the work might have been considerably improved upon.

Some Mississippians are tough. Two of them recently had a fisticuff in a room when one threw the other out of the window. Thinking he had killed him, he jumped out to make his escape. Although the window was thirty feet from the ground, neither was hurt.

A perfectly petrified human body was dug up from an old cemetery in Philadelphia recently. It was the body of a man supposed to have been buried over fifty years ago. One of the remarkable things about this is that there were three other bodies in the same grave, all of which had been reduced to dust.

Ex Queen Lil, who was held "in detention" by the Sons of the Missionaries, has concluded there was no use in bucking against them, and has therefore formally relinquished all her claims to the monarchy and sworn allegiance to the Republic. Thus ends that episode. She regrets the action of her ill-advised adherents who got up that little "rebellion," which was so speedily quashed.

Good bread builders seem to be scarce in and around Washington. In a trial contest recently held at the pure food show, out of 400 loaves entered, not one was pronounced perfect. The first prize was won by a woman who makes breadmaking her business, the next by a woman who does her own cooking, and the third by a colored woman who is a hired cook.

Mr. J. Sloan Fassit made the statement in a speech before a political club in New York, that there were over 100,000 of the "best citizens" in that city who rarely voted, because if they did their names would go on the poll lists and they might be called on to serve on juries. They are not the "best citizens." If they were the best citizens they would neither fail to do their duty as voters nor as jurors, in both of which capacites the "best citizens" should be at the front and not dodging.

The champion spendthrift of Paris is the son of a wealthy deceased iron founder who is trying to see how fast he can get away with the money the old man earned and left him. His latest freak was a big banquet to fast people, actors, &c., at which bouquets were presented to each of the females present, the favorite one of whom got a bouquet which was held together with a $30,000 bracelet. His name is Call. She seems to have the call on him and on his cash.

There seems to be some anxiety at Washington as to the fate of the men of the cruiser Concord who were kidnapped by Chinese at Chin Kiang, in retaliation for the killing accidentally or otherwise of a Chinaman by one of a party of the Concord who were on a hunting expedition, but not hunting Chinese. It is reported that they are being held for ransom. Our impression is that they will not be held long if the Chinese Government has any influence with the Chin Kiangians, for China would be in a pretty bad fix with Japan and the Uncle Sam both jumping on her.

The New York Sun says that was a "cruel lie" given out about Mr. Astor's contract with a New York florist to place daily upon the grave of the late Mrs. Astor a basket of flowers, until the amount of cost reached $40.000. The florist himself started the lie on its rounds as an advertisement.

Wm. Hill, of Washington county, Pa., died the other day aged 100 years and some months. He began chewing tobacco at the age of 15, and kept it up through life, and had remarkable good health all the time.

They don't seem to be up in the Kentucky cure for snake bite in India, where over 23,000 persons died last year from snake bites, in the province of Bengal alone.

When ex-Minister Foster got to Japan to help work up that peace treaty, he found himself "a statesman out of a job," a $100,000 job, too.

It is pretty cold over in China where the Japs are performing, but they are making it hot for the Chinamen allee samee.

And the Cats Came Back.

Despite the opinion of many that the world is going to the bad, there is more sympathy and kindness among the human race than one would suppose. A staid old widower in this city having put out poisoned food to get relief from frequent carnivals of cats, after saying his prayers at night, concluded it was wrong and uncharitable, and went out and took in the poisoned bait.

CAN LOGS TALK?

An Instance That Indicates They Can Hold a Conversation.

When engaged in locating a railway in New Brunswick, James Camden, a civil-engineer, was compelled one night by a very severe snow storm to take refuge in a small farm-house, says Forest and Stream. The farmer owned two dogs, one an old Newfoundland, and the other a collie. In due time the farmer and his family went to bed, the Newfoundland stretched himself out by the chimney corner, and Mr. Camden and the man with him had rolled themselves in their blankets on the floor in front of the fire.

The door of the house was closed by a wooden latch and fastened by a bar placed across it. Mr. Camden and his man were just falling asleep when they heard the latch of the door raised. They did not get up immediately, and in a short time the latch was tried again. They waited a few minutes, and then Mr. Camden rose, unfastened the door and looked out. Seeing nothing, he returned to his blankets but did not replace the bar across the door.

Two or three minutes later the latch was tried a third time. This time the door opened and the collie walked in. He pushed the door back, walked straight to the old Newfoundland and appeared to make some kind of a whispered communication to him. Mr. Camden lay still and watched. The old dog rose and followed the other out of the house. Both presently returned, driving before them a valuable ram belonging to the farmer, which had become separated from the rest of the flock, and was in danger of perishing in the storm. Now, how did the collie impart to the other dog a knowledge of the situation, unless through some supersense unknown to us?

Cape Fear River Steamers.

The steamboat Frank Sessoms, from Fayetteville, arrived yesterday morning covered with ice. Capt. Robinson says the weather Thursday night was the worst he had ever experienced. The Killam with flat in tow, also from Fayetteville, got in later in the day. During the gale she was driven ashore and got aground on a rice field near Navassa.

Mrs. Lilly Devereux Blake delivered an address in the Senate Chamber this afternoon to a large audience in advocacy of woman suffrage.

All the time in the House after morning hour was consumed in the contested election case of Dixon against Mewborne, of Greene, resulting in the unseating of Mewborne, Democrat, the sitting member. OPERA HOUSE.

"Pot Pourri" by Amateurs—A Pleasing Entertainment—To Be Repeated This Afternoon.

A very amusing and creditable entertainment was given at the Opera House last night by some of the best musical talent of the city, entitled "Pot Pourri."

It was much of what the name indicates, and consisted chiefly of farce comedy and music, both vocal and instrumental.

The names of those taking part are not mentioned on account of the extreme reluctance on the part of the managers to give a full list, and it was impossible to recognize most of those on the stage in their costumes.

The stage arrangements were tasty and many of the costumes were extremely beautiful.

Miss Hamme presided at the piano, and Mr. W. A. Martin accompanied with the flute.

The singing of Mrs. Westbrook and Miss Martin was splendid, and elicited much applause.

The violin duet by Miss Foster and Mr. Martin was very sweet, and the "Final tableau" was beautiful beyond description.

A matinee performance will be given this afternoon at the Opera House, beginning at 3 o'clock. The prices of admission will be 35 and 15 cents.

COLUMBUS COUNTY.

Fire at Wootan—A Dwelling Destroyed—Plenty of Hog and Hominy.

[Special Star Correspondence.]

WOOTEN, N. C., Feb. 7.

EDITOR STAR—Mr. Dan McRacken met with the misfortune of losing his residence Monday night, the 4th inst. It was one of the best and oldest houses in this section. Mr. McRacken had recently moved to Tillery, N. C., and left the house in charge of Mr. Montgomery Bullard, who was occupying one-half of it, and the fire broke out in the unoccupied part.

Mr. Bullard with the aid of the neighbors succeeded in saving most of his household effects. The loss is about $800.

Your correspondent is glad to say that there have been more hogs killed in this part of Columbus county than for several years. There is plenty of corn also, selling at 50 cents per bushel. Our advice is they had better stop taking 50 cents for it for they will see quite a change in prices before July 1895.

E. C. WOOTEN.

THEY BENEFIT FARMERS.

Cotton Mills Afford a Convenient Market for Near-by Farmers.

Mr. J. A. Brock, president of a bank at Anderson, S. C., says:

The cotton mills have had a very beneficial effect on the business interests of our section. Indeed, it could hardly be overestimated. The one in our city has, beyond question, added materially to the business prosperity of this place, and the farmers have been greatly benefitted by the home market for cotton and products of the same the mills have afforded. Most of the $250,000 capital stock of our mill is local money. I do not think such is the case of the Piedmont and Pelzer mills (two of the largest in the South) both of which are near by. The cotton mills in our section have been profitable, and in that respect compare favorably with other industries. I think there are no more safe or remunerative investments than in well-managed cotton mills in the South.

SATURDAY MORNING, FEB. 9 1895

HELP HOME INSTITUTIONS.

Yesterday we wrote upon the subject of keeping our money at home by spending it among our own people, by patronizing our own merchants, manufacturers and mechanics, and thus not only keeping our money at home, but building up our home enterprises and giving employment to thousands of our own people. We do not realize the influence that each of us might exert in accomplishing this, nor how much each of us is interested in its accomplishment, but there is not one of us who is not directly interested in the progress and prosperity of the State and community in which we live. If there be general prosperity we all profit by it; if there be wide-spread adversity, we all suffer by it.

By way of illustration: Apparently it is the cotton planter who suffers by the low price of cotton, and the wheat grower who suffers by the low price of wheat. This seems so, but there are others who suffer as much if not more than they do; others, too, who are not as well able to stand the pinch as the cotton-planter or the wheat-grower, provided the cotton-planter and wheat-grower are out of debt, and not forced to put their products upon the market.

The cities live upon the country. That's a fact. Impoverish the rural districts and the cities to which they are tributary would be forced into bankruptcy. The country is the greatest patron of the city; cripple the capacity of the country to buy and the wheels of the mills would run on short time, and the boxes and bales of goods of the wholesale merchant would remain unsold upon his hands. Impoverish the cities, deprive their workmen of the ability to buy and the markets for much the farmer raises is destroyed and it is thrown as an unprofitable surplus on his hands. Thus we are indirectly dependent upon each other, town upon country, country upon town, community upon community and individual upon individual, as the individual is simply a fractional part of the community, large or small, which in turn is simply a fractional part of the State, which is also a fractional part of the nation.

If this be correct (and it is), isn't it a sufficient reason why every member of a community should take a lively interest in the progress and prosperity of the community and do all he can to aid in promoting this progress and prosperity?

Isn't it a reason, also, why every member of the community should look ahead of to-day and be willing to practice some self-denial if necessary or make some personal sacrifice to build for the future and lasting prosperity of the community or section in which he lives?

We do not mean by this that he should make sacrifices which would involve much inconvenience or loss or suffering, for that is not necessary, but simply the exhibition of pride of section (which is patriotism) which would glory in building up the enterprises and industries which would make it self-dependent and independent.

During the war many of our ladies wore "home-spun" dresses and were proud of them. They were a badge of necessity, it is true, but they were also a badge of patriotism. Suppose our women and men of to-day decided to give preference to goods manufactured in Southern factories, wouldn't our factories hum, and our water-powers be in demand? It wouldn't be necessary then to be inviting New England mill men to come on inspecting tours, or to invest capital, for we would have more of them without invitations than we could shake a stick at.

The mills that now make only coarser goods would be making finer goods to supply the demand and it would not be long before they turned out as fine goods as can be woven anywhere and the necessity would no longer exist to go abroad to keep up with the behests of fashion.

Then what a home market there would be for the planter of cotton, almost at his own door, and at a better price, too, by the saving of the numerous handlings, and long transportation, all of which comes out of the man that grows the cotton.

Manufacturing the cotton goods that our people need why shouldn't we also raise the wool and manufacture it to supply them with the woolen garments that taste or comfort might require? There is no Southern State that is not better adapted by climate and pasturage for sheep culture than the States in the West in which that industry is largely followed. We have all the natural advantages and there is no reason why the South should not only become the cotton-manufacturing section of this country, but eventually of the world, but also the woolen manufacturing section.

The closer our people stand together and the more they resolve to help each other by patronizing home industries, our cotton, our woolen and other manufactories, the easier the accomplishment of this grand industrial work will be and the sooner we will reach the lofty eminence which is destined to be ours and which we are approaching with a marvellous rapidity even in the absence of that home co-operation that thrift and patriotism should both enjoin.

MINOR MENTION.

Some of the very best advertising that has ever been done for the South as the section for cotton manufactories is being done by the New England mill men, and in the section where it will do the most good. It is not to be presumed that they are overdrawing the picture, or that they are influenced by sectional partiality, as might be thought if these same statements were made by Southern men, and therefore what they say is entitled not only to consideration, but to confidence. It is true that one of the objects in giving such publicity to these statements, and making them with such emphasis, is to draw the attention of New England, especially Massachusetts, legislators to the dangers that confront the cotton manufacturing industry in that section, and to check the legislation which is doing so much to handicap the mill operators, and is threatening to do much more, and which if persisted in, they say, will force many of them to abandon Massachusetts and seek locations in the South, where with all the natural advantages they will have to contend against no such legislative obstructions. In view of the fact that it has been questioned if the South can compete with the North in the manufacture of fine goods the interesting statement was made in the meeting at Boston, Thursday, (a report of which appeared in yesterday's STAR) that the labor in the Southern mills is more intelligent than that in the mills of Massachusetts, which is largely composed of Bohemians and Canadians, and the further statement that the North Carolina mills are weaving finer threads than the the average Nothern mills. This is interesting information, coming from a New England miller, as to the character of our labor and of the work of our mills.

The fate of the Springer bill with the substitutes and amendments, as decided by the advance majorities in the House of Representatives Thursday settles the fact that there will be no financial legislation during this session of Congress, and settles the fact, also, that this Government must depend upon borrowed gold to meet its obligations until there is some remedial legislation. Considerable, if not all, the necessary relief could be given if the amendment proposed to the Springer bill requiring import duties to be paid in gold and silver were passed as a separate measure, but there is little likelihood of that now. Both Houses seem to be in such a muddle that they can't agree on anything and the differences among the Democrats are so decided that no measure proposed could possibly be carried without Republican votes, and the Republicans will vote for nothing that doesn't emanate from them. They pretend to be willing to do something, and they expose the hypocrisy of this pretence by opposing everything proposed by the Democrats, and then throwing the responsibility of the failure upon them. They and a minority of the Democrats in both Houses are standing by the money power, and they have made up their minds to kill any measure that is not in the interest of the money power. That is about the size of it.

* *

The weather prognosticators who predicted that we would have a short and sharp Winter got there as to the sharp whether they do as to the short or not. It has been sharp not only in this country, but all over the world where Winter is felt at all. In Northern China it has been extremely cold, and portions of Europe have suffered severely. Portions of Scotland and Ireland are now buried under snow, human beings suffering, stock perishing and wild animals and game dying by the thousand. The cold waves have spread from one extreme of this country to the other, from Maine into Texas, where thousands of cattle and sheep have perished, and from Dakota into semi-tropical Florida, where they froze the oranges on the trees and blistered the orange groves. But as this thing is so general and all are getting a swipe we suppose we have no right to growl.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—Small industries are important factors in the development and prosperity of a town. A dozen small factories owned by twelve men and employing two hundred men are more desirable than one factory owned by one man and employing two hundred men.—Knoxville Tribune, Dem.

—Our Congress may be amenable to censure and our President may not have the best ideas of how the monetary pressure may be relieved. But if our farmers will move on the line of producing their own food, and practicing the strictest economy, they will better their own condition, in spite of Congress and President. Let them proceed to give the matter a trial.—Augusta Chronicle, Dem.

—The banks have no apparent use for gold. The have absolutely no obligations of any kind, near or remote, which are payable in gold. Nevertheless these banks are hoarding gold in large quantities at a time when to do so is to subject the Government to heavy and needless expense and to disturb the country's business in serious fashion. Thus the Clearing House banks of New York alone hold over $81,000,000 in gold for which they have no use.—New York World, Dem.

—Money at 1 per cent. on call in New York and the money centers of the world may be a satisfactory condition to the money changers, and men who have gilt edge security to put up as collateral, but the man who earns his living in the sweat of his brow is the citizen of this country who has the right to expect some consideration in the making of its laws and the forming of its financial policy. He makes up the great bulk of the population, and he has no gilt edge collateral. But he has his muscle and his brain, and he is willing to work, and he has a right to expect from his Government a financial system under which it shall be possible for him to earn a competence. Ask the people of this country and not the Wall street bankers if you want to find out whether there is an abundance of cheap money.—Augusta Chronicle, Dem.

—Weldon News: Deputy Collector Daniel last Monday seized the registered distillery of Mr. J. H. Hoar, at Littleton. The seizure was for irregularities.

—Charlotte News: Mrs. Lucinda Dunn died this morning at her home in Providence township at the age of 84 years. She was the wife of the late Col Jas A. Dunn, also of Providence.

—Monroe Enquirer: A few days ago there were twenty prisoners in our county jail, and while it is not supposed that a jail bird has any politics yet that crowd congratulated itself up on the fact that there was not a Democrat in the whole lot out.

—Monroe Journal: One of the most unique trials ever heard here was that of John Hart, colored, tried for stealing $65 from another negro. Hart was his own lawyer and conducted his own case, examining and cross examining the witnesses, and addressing the jury in a lengthy argument. As a result of his forensic skill he got only one year in the penitentiary.

—Southport Leader: Word is brought here of the death of Willie Leonard, son of Sim B. Leonard, of Shallotte, in this county. The cause of the young man's death was typhoid fever. Willie was 19 years old. —The Government work, under the supervision of Daniel Bender, in the construction of the jetty at Snow's Marsh channel, has made good progress during the past week, and the piles already driven make a long line on the east side of the channel, and indicate to some degree the extent of the work to be done, as well as the length of the jetty. —Shipments of clam shells have been made daily during the past week by the Steamer Wilmington. The Canning Company and Drew & Co., were the shippers.

—Newbern Journal: Mr. Calvin Morris, formerly of Newbern, and who was paralyzed before moving from this city, died at his home in Durham yesterday morning. —About five o'clock yesterday afternoon flames were discovered issuing from the roof of Judge H. R. Bryan's handsome residence on East Front street. The fire had caught in the attic near the center of the house, where there was no chimney or flue, or fire at all, and where no one had been in no telling how long. Consequently the origin of the fire is a mystery. It is thought the damage to the building will be four or five thousand dollars and to the furniture about one thousand and five hundred.

A NEW DISCOVERY BY THE SHAKERS

For more than a hundred years the Mount Lebanon Shakers have studied the cultivation of medicinal plants and sought to extract from them their healing essences. Their labor has not been spent in vain. They have made a discovery that will prove a blessing to mankind. It consists of a cordial that causes immediate relief in cases of indigestion. The importance of this discovery will be apparent when we realize that nearly nine-tenths of all our sufferings are caused by dyspepsia or indigestion. Nearly every person you meet has this digestive trouble in some or its varied forms—sick headache, distress after eating, pain and fulness in the chest after eating, palpitations of the heart, etc., are but symptoms of indigestion. To relieve these sufferings has been the study of the Shakers, and they have succeeded. The reason the Shaker Digestive Cordial has such an immediate and salutary effect is that it causes the food eaten to be digested, for it is the undigested food that causes the distress. The Cordial causes the food to be digested before there is time for it to ferment and sour on the stomach. When the food is so digested it gives strength and vigor to the feeble body, makes one feel bright and cheerful and makes one gain in flesh.

The Digestive Cordial is so prompt in its action that the very first dose will have a perceptibly favorable result. It gives immediate relief.

In order to prove the statement small trial bottles have been placed in the druggists' hands, which can be obtained for ten cents each. This trial bottle will have a beneficial effect and will satisfy any one that the Cordial is adapted to his case. After a trial give praise to the Shakers of Mount Lebanon, N. Y.

HUMAN NATURE.

When some men can't act mean, they talk mean.

Almost any man can talk eloquently when telling of his complaints.

If the present rate keeps up, all the men will finally be lawyers and all the women stenographers.

It takes all that a man earns to keep the present in such a shape that he may hope to save in the future.

For a list of a man's friends look in his ledger for those whose accounts have remained unpaid the longest.

An old age of poverty and ill health is the hell you bear about. Avoid it by taking care of your money and your liver.

Never ask your friends why they like you. You will never like them so well afterward, because of the reason they give. —Rothfson Globe.

The Parson's Rebuke.

A mean man invited the village preacher to dine with him, but placed before the preacher only a dish of greens and corn bread.

"Will you say grace, parson?" asked the host.

"I will," replied the parson. "Lord, make us thankful for greens and corn bread, and put it into the heart of our brother to raise hogs next year!"—Atlanta Constitution.

The Drawback.

The sexes can never be truly equal,
No matter what's written and said and done,
While the stupidest man has fourteen pockets
And the cleverest woman has none.
—Life.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

SATURDAY MORNING FEB. 9, 1895

THE BOND ISSUE.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND'S MESSAGE TO CONGRESS.

Arrangements Completed for an Issue of U. S. Four Per Cents Payable in Coin, to the Amount of $62,000,000.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, February 8—The President sent the following message to Congress at noon to-dyy:

To the Congress of the United States:

"Since my recent communication to the Congress calling attention to our financial condition and suggesting legislation which I deemed essential to our National welfare and credit the anxiety and apprehension then existing in business circles have continued.

"As a precaution, therefore, against the failure of timely legislative aid through Congressional action, cautious preparations have been pending to employ to the best possible advantage, in default of better means, such executive authority as may, without additional legislation, be exercised for the purpose of reinforcing and maintaining in our Treasury an adequate and safe gold reserve.

"In the judgment of those especially charged with this responsibility, the business situation is so critical and the legislative situation so unpromising, with the omission thus far on the part of Congress to beneficially enlarge the powers of the Secretary of the Treasury in the premises, as to enjoin immediate legislative action with the facilities now at hand.

Therefore, in pursuance of section 2700 of the Revised Statute, the details of an arrangement have this day been concluded with parties abundantly able to fulfil their undertaking, whereby bonds of the United States authorzed under the act of July 14th, 1875 payable in coin thirty years after their date, with interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum, to the amount of a little less than sixty-two millions and four hundred thousand dollars, are to be issued for the purchase of gold coin amounting to a sum slightly in excess of sixty-five millions of dollars, to be delivered to the Treasury of the United States, which sum, added to the gold held in our reserve, will so restore such reserve as to make it amount to something more than one hundred millions of dollars. Such a premium is to be allowed to the Government upon the bonds as to fix the rate of interest upon the amount of gold realized at three and three-fourths per cent. per annum. At least one half of the gold to be obtained to be supplied from abroad, which is a very important and favorable feature of the transaction.

"The privilege is especially reserved to the Government to substitute at par within ten days from this date, in lieu of the four per cent. coin bonds, other bonds in terms payable in gold and bearing only three per cent. interest, if the issue of the same should in the meantime be authorized by the Congress.

The arrangement being thus completed, which after careful inquiry appears in present circumstances, and considering all objects desired to be the best obtainable, develops such a difference in the estimates of investors between bonds made payable in coin and those specifically made payable in gold in favor of the latter, as is represented by three fourths of a cent. in annual interest. In the agreement just concluded the annual saving in interest to the Government if 8 per cent. gold bonds should be substituted for four per cent. coin bonds under the privilege reserved, which would be five hundred and thirty-nine thousand, one hundred fifty-nine dollars amounting in thirty years or at the maturity of the coin bonds to sixteen million, one hundred and seventy-four thousand, seven hundred and seventy dollars.

"Of course there never should be a doubt in any quarter as to the redemption in gold of the bonds of the Government which are made payable in gold. Therefore, the discrimination in the judgment of investors, between our bond obligations payable in coin, and those specifically made payable in gold, is very significant.

"It is hardly necessary to suggest that whatever may be our views on the subject, the sentiments or preferences of those with whom we must negotiate in disposing of our bonds for gold are not subject to our dictation.

I have only to add that in my opinion the transaction herein detailed for the information of Congress promises better results than the efforts previously made in this direction of effectively adding to our gold reserve through the sale of bonds, and I believe it will tend as far as such action can under present circumstances, to meet the determination expressed in the law repealing the silver purchasing clause of the act of July 14th, 1890, and that in the language of such repealing act the arrangement made will aid our efforts to insure the maintenance of the parity in value of the coins of the two metals, and the equal power of every dollar at all times in the markets and in the payment of debts.

A GREAT SNOW-STORM.

THE ENTIRE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD SYSTEM CRIPPLED.

Drifts as High as Car Tops—Trains Stalled on All Divisions—No Let-Up in the Storm—Rivers Ice-Locked—Manufactories Compelled to Shut Down—The Situation in New York—Mercury Below Zero in Balmish—Truckers' Crops in South Carolina and Georgia Destroyed—The Blizzard Wrought Havoc in Florida.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

PHILADELPHIA, February 8—The entire Pennsylvania Railroad system from New York to Washington in the east and as far west as Pittsburg is seriously crippled because of snow drifts. In some places, particularly at Mifflin, forty-nine miles west of Harrisburg, Pa., the snow has drifted as high as the car tops. A few trains on the various divisions started from Philadephia this morning, but the drifts interrupted their progress at intervals of every few miles. Thus far no accidents have been reported.

The Western, Southwestern and Pacific Express trains which left here last night at 8 50, 10 25 and 11 20 o'clock respectively were snow-bound all night in the neighborhood of Downingtown. This morning workmen succeeded in clearing the tracks and the trains proceeded slowly, arriving at Harrisburg shortly before noon. It is not believed that they can get no farther west than Mifflin as several trains have been snowbound there since last night. The snow has drifted on the famous "Horse Shoe" curve which is in the Alleghany Mountains four miles west of Altoona, and a freight train was stalled throughout the night at that place. As a liberal supply of coal was put on all trains before their departure last night, there was no suffering among the belated passengers or train crews.

On the New York division and on the Maryland division the situation is practically the same as on the main line as regards irregular train service, although the drifts are not so bad.

The high winds blow the snow into heaps on the tracks almost as fast as workmen clear it away and the cold is growing more intense hourly.

Luckily the telegraph wires over the Pennsylvania road are in fairly good shape, thus making it possible to direct the movements of trains from central points and lessening the possibility of accidents. The Reading road is also in bad shape, particularly at Reading and in the coal regions.

An eastbound patsenger train on the East Pennsylvania road is snow bound near Lyo, a station, and is almost completely hidden from view. There are only a few persons on the train beside the crew.

The trains on the main line between Pottsville and Philadelphia are all more or less late. The mail train, which is due in Philadelphia at noon from Pottsville, is fast in a big drift near Hamburg.

The Wilmington and Northern trains are all snow-bound and the traffic has been brought to a standstill.

The Schuylkill and Lehigh branch is snowed up completely and no attempt was made to start trains. The Reading and Columbia branch is also snow-bound and traffic is at a standstill.

There is apparently no let up in the storm and the air is filled with flying snow. Railroad men say the conditions are equally as bad as in the blizzard of March 1888.

PITTSBURG, February 8.—The mercury at 6 o'clock this morning recorded four degrees below zero. In exposed places it was several degrees lower. Indications are for much colder weather inside of 24 hours. Trains on all roads entering Pittsburg are detained by snow and frozen water tanks. The extensive plant of the Westinghouse Electric Company, at Brinton, is closed down, and the thousands of employes idle on account of frozen water and steam pipes. Teams are crossing the rivers on the ice; drawing heavily loaded wagons. The river men are convinced that river property will be in great danger of destruction when the heavy ice breaks up. The Ohio river is closed between Pittsburg and Wheeling. The Allegheny and Monongahela rivers are ice-locked throughout their length. There can be no change in the conditions of the big gorges in the Allegheny river until a rain or thaw causes the river to rise several feet."

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—The great snowstorm that raged in this vicinity to-day was worse than that memorable blizzard of March 12-15th, 1888 in three ways—in wind, temperature and area affected. Only in snow-fall was the storm of 1888 greater than to-day's. The wind to-day averaged 60 miles an hour against 50 in the blizzard of '88, the temperature to-day hovered about zero, while in '88 it was five above, five and a-half inches of snow fell to-day against two feet then.

In the area of the storm, however, is the great's difference noted. The blizzard to-day swept almost the entire country instead of the mere radius of 400 miles around New York then covered.

The storm swept down on this city early last night and by morning was in full possession.

Snow was drifted high in the streets traffic on Surfaces and electric lines was impeded, tracks and pipes were frozen, persons were overcome by the cold, and frost-bitten noses, ears and hands were plentiful.

In Brooklyn but few street cars were running and the elevated roads could not work as well as usual. Outlying wards and neighboung Long Island towns were completely cut off in many instances with the outside world. There were large fields of ice in the bay and several ships were caught in them. Other vessels were frozen fast at their docks.

The narrows were gorged with ice and it was impossible for any craft, big or little, to navigate there without taking big risks.

Traffic on the different ferries was seriously impeded. Both the North and East rivers were filled with huge masses of drifting ice, and the utmost care had to be exercised in taking the boats across.

Late in the afternoon the Hamilton, South, Wall and Thirty-ninth street ferries stopped running on account of the ice. The only serious accident thus far reported, and which was attended with probable loss of life, occurred late last night in the lower bay, when a fishing schooner, the Emma, capsized. Four of her crew took to a boat and attempted to reach shore but have not since been heard from. Three others remained in the rigging four or five hours and then reached shore nearly frozen in a small boat.

All the mails due here to-day were delayed. Some are reported stalled along the routes.

The storm on Long Island was unusually severe. Travel is blocked nearly everywhere. Much suffering is reported.

Reports from Rockaway Beach, Coney Island, Sag Harbor, East Hampton, Greenport, Northport, Freeport, and many other points say that the storm is the worst known in years. Fire Island reports two schooners ashore near there, one at Point of Woods, the other at Lone Hill. The crew of the schooner ashore at the first-named place were safely landed, but at last accounts the crew of the other schooner had not yet been saved. They are lashed to the rigging and must suffer intensely.

Far Rockaway reports that a steamer is said to be ashore at Long Beach, but cannot confirm the statement.

Far Rockaway also reports a serious railroad accident near that place. An engine on the Long Island Railroad was derailed and overturned. The fireman was killed outright and the engineer was caught under the wreck, badly scalded and held fast until he died. The temperature at the spot was 8 below zero.

NORFOLK, VA., February 8.—The coldest day in the history of the Weather Bureau in this city, was to-day, when the mercury registered two degrees above zero, this being two degrees colder than any previous record. The harbor is fringed with ice and inland navigation is suspended. Mails are delayed and street car traffic impeded. Charitable institutions and organizations are taxed to the utmost to relieve the suffering poor.

The North Carolina sounds are frozen, as are all inland streams, but early crops are protected by their blankets of snow.

RICHMOND VA, February 8—Exceptionally cold weather continues to prevail here. Save two years ago it is the coldest snap experienced in thirty years. Early this morning the mercury was two degrees below. A bitter wind, which this afternoon chopped around to the south has been blowing all day. The James river is frozen over at Rocketts, thus closing navigation. No Northern trains arrived to-day, and trains from the South and the West were slightly delayed. The Gallego mills and other industries dependent upon water-power have been compelled to suspend. Overhead it is as clear as crystal.

RALEIGH, N. C., February 8—The mercury here this morning recorded one degree below zero. In exposed places it was several degrees lower. This breaks the record here for the month of February, 18 being the lowest ever known here before. The trains on some of the roads are delayed several hours. There is much suffering among the poor. Colder weather is predicted to-morrow.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Feb. 8—The thermometer registered 12 degrees this morning, the lowest on record for February. Everything in the way of vegetables is destroyed.

SAVANNAH Feb. 8—Farmers report that the English pea crop was the only large crop planted here and it was killed by the cold. Some potatoes were in the ground, but being planted deep are not damaged.

Cabbages and a small lot of other vegetables which were up were killed outright. As the large proportion of the Spring vegetable crop had not been planted the loss will not be serious.

CHARLOTTE N. C., Feb 8—Business here has been hung up since yesterday afternoon when the ground was covered with snow and ice. The mercury this morning was one degree above zero. At midnight it is nine degrees above four degrees higher than at the same hour last night.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., February 8—The blizzard has brought havoc in Florida. Thousands of acres of young vegetables are killed. Orange trees are worse hurt than in the freeze of December on account of being filled with Spring sap. Many were just budding. Even strawberries were killed. The mercury touched 14 this morning at Jacksonville the same as recorded in the freeze of December 29 th. At other points in the State it was relatively as cold. At Jupiter, 200 miles south of Jacksonville, the mercury was 28; at Titusville 150 miles south, 18, and at Tampa, 235 miles south, 29. At Tampa, Clearwater and vicinity it snowed from 8 a. m. to noon, and the inhabitants marveled at the unprecedented freak of King Winter.

GRAIN AND PORVISIONS.

Wheat and Corn a Shade Lower—No Change in Oats—Pork Produces Declined in Price.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHICAGO, February 8—May wheat opened at 54c; sold between 54¼@54¾ and 53¾c, closing at 53¾@53¾c, a shade under yesterday. Cash wheat was dull because of the light arrivals and off rings. Prices were nominally unchanged.

Corn—The cold weather continued to impart firmness to corn and the shorts were correspondingly uncomfortable during the morning but were enabled to assert themselves before the close, the decline in wheat serving to modify the strength to a marked extent and the offerings eventually forcing prices below yesterday's closing figures. May corn opened from 45¾ to 45¾c, ranged between 45¾ and 44¾@45¾ and closing at 45c, ½c under yesterday. Cash corn was dull and unchanged.

Oats were almost neglected, May oats closed unchanged from yesterday. No change was reported in the cash market, where trade was exceedingly light.

Provisions—The packers were on the selling side of the product to-day and the market in consequence thereof declined, notwithstanding reports from the yards as to the hog trade. The opening was fairly firm, but the latter action was not in line with the start. At the close May pork was 28½c under yesterday. May lard 7½c under and May ribs 10c lower. Domestic markets were quiet and easier.

WARM WIRELETS.

The American Oak Leather Tannery, Cincinnati, was burned yesterday. Loss is estimated at $40 000.

At Carrollton, Mo., S. C. Rea, cashier of the Caroll Exchange Bank, and a prominent business man, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head. There is no known reason for the act.

At Beaver Falls, Pa. Christian Smith was found dead on the floor of his room yesterday morning. He had evidently fallen out of bed during the night and was frozen to death. He was in well-to do circumstances.

On account of the illness of juror J. C. Coe, the hearing of the Debs case was adjourned until Monday morning. Both sides wanted to go on, but Judge Grosscup held that such a proceeding would be invalid.

Jabez Williams, colored, was hanged in the jail yard at Augusta, Ga., yesterday. The crime for which Williams suffered the death penalty was the killing of Police Officer Murray, while attempting to arrest Williams.

Must Work to Keep Up.

Few Physicians Try to Cover the Wide Field of Science.

TENDENCY OF THE TIME.

One All-Important Branch of Medicine Strangely Neglected Until Independent Discovery Made Great Strides — Millions Have Been Restored.

"My physician goes hand in hand with my pastor."

This remark was made by the late J. G Holland, himself a doctor, and it was true. The work done by the medical profession of America is vast and valuable. So vast indeed that few physicians are able to cover the entire field of practice, but select special departments in which to become proficient. It is perhaps strange that so few doctors have made a specialty of studying or treating the most important organ of the body, which are the kidneys, but such nevertheless is a fact. It is probably because those organs are so wonderfully delicate and uncertain, have so few recognizable symptoms when they are deranged, and, in fact, assume the symptoms that are also the cause of most other diseases. I was left to independent discovery to produce a remedy especially adapted for the kidneys, liver and other organs, and so efficient has this discovery been during the past twenty years that it is unhesitatingly acknowledged by the medical profession and scientists generally, as a sovereign remedy for these troubles. It is needless to say that it is Warner's Safe Cure.

While millions of people have been rescued from sickness and are kept in health by the use of this great remedy, comparatively few realize how great is its purity and power. It soothes all inflammation, fevers, irregularity or similar troubles of these and adjacent organs and leads the sufferer back to health and away from misery. If you, therefore, are a sufferer from any of these troubles, while you may have your regular physician, it is not necessary that you should call upon him, for you have a means of restoring your health within easy reach. Every intelligent man or woman who stops to reflect realizes this, and in time of trouble should act upon it.

THE HAWAIIAN REVOLT.

Two Americans Among the Number Sentenced to Death—Minister Willis Instructed by the U. S. Government to Demand Delay of Execution.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, February 8.—The President to-day sent to Congress the latest telegram from Minister Willis and Secretary Gresham's instructions in reply, showing a more serious condition of affairs than reported in the press dispatches. The dispatches are as follows:

Mr Willis to Mr. Gresham (telegram).

"Honolulu, Jan 30 1895 (San Francisco, Feb. 6, 1895) Revolt over 9th Casualties: Government troops, one; Royalists 3 Court martial convened on the 17th; has tried 38 cases; 200 more to be tried and daily arrivals. Gulick former Minister, and Seward, Minister, Major in Federal army, both Americans, and Richard, Englishman, sentenced to death; all heretofore prominent in politics. T. B Walker, formerly in the United States army, imprisonment for life and $5 000 fine. Other sentences not disclosed but will probably be death. Requested copies of record for our Government to determine its duty before final sentence but no answer yet. Bitter feeling and threats of mob violence, which the arrival of the Philadelphia, yesterday, may prevent. Liliuokalani made prisoner 16th; on 24th relinquished all claims and swore allegiance Republic, imploring clemency for Hawaiians.

The Government replies to Liliuokalani: "This document cannot be taken to exempt you in the slightest degree from personal and individual liability for complicity in the late conspiracy. Denies that she had any rights since January 14th, 1893, when she attempted a new Constitution. 'Fully appreciate her call to the disaffected to recognize the Republic, and will give full consideration to her unselfish appeal for clemency' for participants.

FIRE AT ASHEVILLE.

The Alexander Building Burned and the Western Hotel and Other Houses Badly Damaged.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ASHEVILLE N. C., February 8—About midnight fire broke out in the Alexander building on Court Square. The mercury was four degrees below zero and the water supply was low. About twenty guests of the Western Hotel, in the adjoining Johnston block, got out at the first alarm, saving nothing, and scurried to other hotels half-dressed. A fierce, icy wind was blowing, but by desperate fighting volunteer firemen and citizens kept the flames within the buildings. The business section of the town was threatened at one time, when the water was lowest. Two upper stories of the Johnston building, containing the Western Hotel, were gutted, and John Rich's hardware store on the first floor was badly damaged by fire and water.

The adjoining block, belonging to Kelly F. Alexander, was gutted, nothing being left but the walls. The Western Carolina Bank building, also owned by Alexander, was flooded with water and the upper story burned out. The fire gained a foothold in the rear of a building facing on Patton avenue, but did not spread.

The firemen fought the flames three hours before the fire yielded. The mercury was falling all the time. Many citizens aided the firemen, and frost-bitten ears and hands resulted.

CONGRESS YESTERDAY.

TWO VERY IMPORTANT COMMUNICATIONS RECEIVED FROM THE PRESIDENT.

One Relating to the Financial Situation and the Other Concerning Affairs in the Hawaiian Republic—Both Papers Referred to Appropriate Committees.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, February 9—Two very important communications from the President of the United States were presented to the Senate to-day and were referred to their appropriate committees. The first notified Congress that, as a precaution against its failure to give legislative aid to the Treasury, arrangements had been made for a four per cent "coin" bond to run thirty years at premium which would make the actual interest 3⅝ per cent., but coupled with the condition that if a 3 per cent. "gold" bond were authorized by Congress within two days they would be substituted for the four per cent. bonds, thus saving $839,159 in annual interest and saving $16,174,770 in interest for the full term of thirty years. Without any comment, but with a sense of the importance of the President's representation, the message was referred to the Committee on Finance.

The other message of the President attracted equal attention and gave rise to considerable discussion, after which it was referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations. It had reference to the death sentences imposed on the persons convicted of engaging in a revolutionary movement in Hawaii. The general tone of the debate indicated the depth of the feeling which exists against such a sanguinary measure—the only expression to the contrary coming from Mr. Morgan, who said that he had no advice to give to the Hawaiian Government, but that it it worded to the remonstrances of any other Government in such a matter, it might as well turn over its power again to Queen Liliuokalani.

The Diplomatic Appropriation bill, with the amendment as to a telegraphic cable to Hawaii, went over without action, and is to be voted on at 2 p. m. to-morrow.

At 5 48 p. m. the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

The House to-day entered upon the consideration of the Legislative, Executive and Judicial Appropriation bill for the year ending June 30th, 1896, but made little progress. An amendment to the paragraph providing for the payment of clerks to members offered by Mr. Bartlett (Democrat New York) and to make them annual instead of session employes, led to an animated debate upon the economy and wisdom of giving members the assistance of clerks. Considerable bitterness was displayed at times, and various propositions were made to amend or to substitute Mr. Bartlett's motion. These were all rejected, but upon the adoption of Mr. Bartlett's proposition a quorum did not vote. All efforts to secure a quorum proved futile, and finally they were abandoned and the further consideration of the bill postponed.

The messages from the President announcing the sale of bonds and the protest of this Government against the execution of the courtmartial sentences upon citizens of the United States who engaged in the recent revolution in Hawaii, were received and referred—the former to the Committee on Ways and Means and the latter to the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

Mr. Bowelle (Rep. Me) endeavored to secure a reference of the Hawaiian correspondence to the Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union, but the Speaker held that a motion to that effect would not be in order.

A Senate bill was passed appropriating $10 000 for the relief of the poor of the District of Columbia; also, fourteen private pension bills.

The usual Friday night session for the consideration of private pension bills, was omitted by unanimous consent.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

The Fight Against Vice.

It Takes Strong Nerves and Clear Brain These Days.

The Rev. I. P. Quimby of the Broadway Church, Boston, Says It is His Duty to Recommend Paine's Celery Compound—It Makes People Well.

Clergymen to-day need big hearts and sound nerves to accomplish all the good they intend.

It isn't merely the fact of preaching once a week that makes the life of the minister of to day so wearing on nerves and brain. Their every day labor is a round of exacting duties that tax heavily their nervous strength.

The modern minister must keep up his enthusiasm, his hopefulness and his genuine love of his work. He must feel strongly, think deeply and have confidence in his labor and in himself.

But all this taxes heart and brain to their uttermost. It calls for a tremendous outlay of nervous energy seven days in the week and 365 every year. Many clergymen break down utterly under the nervous strain.

Rev. I P Quimby, a well-known Boston preacher, has been saved from nervous prostration.

In a publication of his Sunday School he has recently published the following open letter:

BOSTON, Nov. 20, 1894.

Never in my life have I commended any proprietary medicine, but I would be a derelict in duty if I failed to let the public know what a great boon to humanity I believe Paine's celery compound to be. With a family of seven, I have not paid a dollar for a doctor in ten years, and I owe it to the fact that I always keep Paine's celery compound on hand, and when any of us are "out of sorts," administer it.

Both wife and I, in our arduous church work, are often, by anxiety and overwork, reduced to the verge of nervous prostration, and as often, by the use of Paine's celery compound, restored to our wonted energy of mind and vigor of body.

Our sons, who are young pharmacists, tell us they sell more of Paine's celery compound than any two proprietary medicines, not excepting the sarsaparillas.

Yours for Paine's celery compound,

REV I P QUIMBY,
Pastor of Broadway Church, Boston, Mass.

When the nervous strength has become from any cause impoverished, Paine's celery compound succeeds as nothing else has ever done.

From a state of depression, exhaustion and listlessness the nerves grow strong active, and perfectly nourished by means of Paine's celery compound, the great modern nerve and blood remedy that makes people well. And with the strengthening and regulating of the nerves the disorders that depend on the faulty nutrition of these tissues disappear. Such are rheumatism, neuralgia, heart weakness, headaches, low spirits, lack of strength, and that general poor health that is so impossible to define.

Sound nerves, healthy blood and an all round, vigorous constitution of the body is the invariable effect of taking Paine's celery compound. This great modern restorative corrects derangement of the nervous system, and averts prostration when protracted strain has reduced it to an exhausted, poorly fed, devitalized condition. Try it.
